Survival

Shillim Weather

Condensation

Any surface loses heat throughout the night and gets colder, the moist air that comes in contact with this surface further cools down to reach condensation point – giving rise to dew.

Fog Harvesting

Fog harvesting is a process of trapping water molecules of fog by using meshes which can collect upto 1.5 litres of water per 1 sqm area.