

The ground water is depleting

Government does not involve people in water management

Forty percent of India's population may not have drinking water by 2030

Water Crisis

The flow of rivers has reduced by 60-65 percent